The "Devils" always to pay in a newspaper office, Saturday night.

If you will "Sequard" (seek hard) for the "elixir of life" you will get it.

You have heard the welkin ring. Well, at the Oil Exchange you can see the bull ring.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

"Corn is King" but the little "enter" takes the king, and if the farmer does not get a little enter in making arrangements to get a good price for his grain this king high business won't benefit him much.

Jones—I saw Slimkins yesterday. He is doing first rate now and has a new watch and chain.

Brown—He must have gotten down to steady work.

Jones—Yes, he has. He's in the penitentiary.—Omaha World.

Master of the House (at the door)—Maria, is your mistress in?

Maria (benignly)—Mistress is out, sir, but you can come in if you wipe off your shoes and keep quiet, so as not to disturb the cook. She's gone up stairs to take a nap.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Mrs. Harris (looking up from a letter)—I'm so glad that we sent Harry to Yale. I know he would make his mark. He says he is already considered one of the best scholars in the college.

Mr. Harris—Let me see that letter. That isn't "scholars" it is "scullers".—Chicago Herald.

"Papa, what do they mean when they speak of the reverse side of a coin?"

"The reverse side of a coin," said the old gentleman without looking up from his paper, "is any side that you happen to name when you are tossing up with the hotel clerk."—Merchant Traveler.

This cyclopedia recommends itself. It consists of twenty-four volumes and"—

"I don't want it, stranger. D'ye see that ar boy in the tater patch? well, if you've got anything in them ar books that he doesn't know, I'm mighty curious to know what it is."—Detroit Free Press.

Carpenter: "You say you want a bureau made on a new plan?" Citizen: "Yes, sir; I want it made with legs so that I can get my head and shoulders under it." Carpenter: "Of course, I will fill your order, but you might satisfy my curiosity as to why you want a bureau made in that way." Citizen: "Well, I want to be able to find my collar button without moving the bureau."—Ex.

Little Bobby: "Ma, will I go to heaven when I die?"

Mother: "If you are a good boy you will."

Little Bobby: "Will you go to?"

Mother: "I hope so, Bobby."

Little Bobby: "And will pa?"

Mother: "Yes we will all be there some time."

Bobby did not seem to be altogether satisfied, but after some thought he said: "I don't see how I'm going to have much fun.—Ex.
